Present yourself

You might want to tell us about your research expertise and about your motivation to come to RUB. And why have you chosen your potential host? Elaborate on your personal and scientific benefit, the impact of this visit on your career and your future goals. No matter how, please use a maximum of one page to convince us that you are the right candidate for this funding! Please be aware that non-subject specific experts will also review your application, so we recommend using a language style that is intelligible to everyone.
